Vancouver, Canada, July 30, 2025 – StrategX Elements Corp. (CSE: STGX) (“StrategX” or the “Company”), is pleased to announce the company is in the process of mobilizing for 2025 drill program at the Nagvaak project located on the Melville Peninsula approximately 175km northwest of the Inuit Hamlet of Naujaat, Nunavut (see Figure 1). This follows from the staging work completed last fall in 2024 (see StrategX news release December 3, 2024).

The main objective of the 2025 drill program will be to further delineate and validate the new discovery of critical minerals found from surface sampling and resampling of drill core completed on the property by other companies (see StrategX news release March 21, 2024 and March 3, 2025).
